YUMA FUN FACTS

3:10 to Yuma is a 1957 American Western film directed by Delmer Daves and starring Glenn Ford and Van Heflin. Based on a 1953 short story by Elmore Leonard, the film is about a drought-impooverished rancher who takes on the risky job of escorting a notorious outlaw to justice.

Yuma, Arizona is the official sunniest spot in the world with an average of 11 hours of sun per day, and with so much sunlight, the Southwestern city is perfect for the outdoors. With river-tubing on the Colorado, hot air ballooning over the serene farmlands of Yuma Valley, and ATVing in the Imperial Sand Dunes (it's where they filmed Star Wars: Episode VI – Return of the Jedi, guys), there's no shortage of ways to cash in on Yuma's sunshine capital. Just a short jaunt from the borders of California and Mexico, the gateway city also makes for a great starting point for your next adventure.

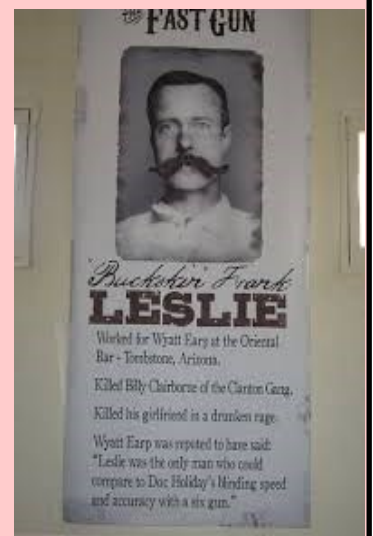

YUMA TERRITORIAL PRISON

The legend says that many years ago a little girl in a red dress trying to retrieve her doll from the Colorado River drowned. She now haunts the Yuma Territorial Historic Prison, and if she doesn't like a visitor or if a person is wearing red, the little girl will pinch the visitor.

Stories like this one have long given the state historic park a reputation as one of the most "haunted" places in the United States. Now it's official: USA Today readers have voted the historic prison as the "Best Haunted Destination" in the nation.

1/16/21... JUMPING JACK FLASH
(Rolling Stones Tribute)

Imagine walking into your favorite music venue and stumbling upon the Rolling Stones themselves! They're all there; Mick is prancing and gyrating, Keith is ripping licks, posing with his trusty beat-up Telecaster. Charlie and Bill are intense as they lay down the backbeat, and Brian Jones looks regal as he lords over his stage. But there's a problem; this isn't London 1964, but rather your town-present day. Put down the pint and take a closer look mate, it's Jumping Jack Flash, the world's greatest tribute to the Rolling Stones!

1/30/2021... MIRAGE (Fleetwood Mac Tribute)

The Year was 1974 when two young California Singer-Songwriters, Lindsey Buckingham and Stevie Nicks joined the already established British Blues band, Fleetwood Mac. With Christine McVie, John McVie and Mick Fleetwood, the band rose to legendary superstar status. Their ground breaking album "Rumours" is still one of the best selling albums of all time. "Mirage" named after the bands' third best selling album features Michelle Tyler as Stevie Nicks, Bob Weitz as John McVie, Annie Boxell as Christine McVie, Gary Hagen as Lindsey Buckingham and Richard Graham as Mick Fleetwood. Based in Los Angeles, "Mirage" has earned the top honors among tribute artists - endorsed by AXSTV as one of "The World's Greatest Tribute Bands" and heartily praised by the "real" Stevie Nicks after she heard a performance. "Mirage" recreates the classic lineup with a strong stage show and every detail to authenticity. From the custom wardrobe to the spot on musical and vocal performances, "Mirage" takes you on a Journey celebrating the hits of Fleetwood Mac in its prime.

2/6/2021... SHANIA TWIN (Shania Twain Tribute)

DONNA HUBER'S unconventional childhood truly set the 'stage' for what has become an atypical yet extraordinarily rewarding career in the world of entertainment. After moving to be closer to her sister, she began to receive a flurry of compliments and comparisons from the local community, to the beautiful and talented Shania Twain. Even Shania, after seeing a poster of Donna, said, "I thought that was me!!!" It was then, that Donna discovered her true passion for music and entertaining.
